

Love And Luxury

I read your little book and... ha ha ha ha ha ha ha

I read your little book and... ha ha ha ha

You need a reason to believe

A reason to deceive

A reason for the song you're singing (ha ha ha ha ha)

And everything you do

Makes perfect sense to you

So why is your alarm bell ringing

You say you know how it feels inside of me

Lost and alone with no love or luxury

Come on inside

And hear the silence constantly judging me

Don't you think you should move on ?

(I heard what you've said, nothing new)

You need a way to get along

A way to carry on

A symptom for the pain you're making

And surely you should know

That everywhere you go

There's acid in the words your faking

You say you know how it feels inside of me

Lost and alone with no love or luxury

*Come on inside
And hear the silence constantly judging me
Don't you think you should move on ?*

*You write it, so you'd best believe it
You sold it, now your soul perceives it
You read a book, but now agree with it
The damage of betrayal
To Hell with your*

*reason to believe
A reason to deceive
A reason for the song you're singing
And everything you do
Makes perfect sense to you
So why is your alarm bell ringing*

*You say you know how it feels inside of me
Lost and alone with no love or luxury
Come on inside
And hear the silence constantly judging me
Don't you think you should move on ?*

*Don't you think you should move on ?
Don't you think you should move on ?*